

The press under attack

Organized crime is attempting to silence the press by increasing the level of violence in the region. In the first five months of this year 11 journalists have been killed, in Haiti, Honduras, Brazil and Mexico, another has been kidnapped in Colombia, and several attacks have once again rocked the buildings of Mexican newspapers.

Act now!

Join us by adding your signature to a letter that we will be sending to the presidents of those countries asking them to be as severe as possible in the investigations and punishment of all those responsible. Go to www.impunidad.com. Or write to:
